1. In connection with your response to our requirement of 17 December 1956, I should like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation for the dispatch with which [REDACTED] access to [REDACTED] of interest to us was arranged.

[REDACTED] from this office spent considerable time at the center working with the material. Their efforts in this respect were uniquely productive in large part by reason of the able assistance of [REDACTED] [REDACTED] from your staff.

2. Certain extremely valuable interim reports have been produced. However, it will be necessary to continue our contact with the center on an "as needed" basis until the basic materials are completely exploited in order to supplement and round out the gains already made.
